

Study Questions

Lesson #14: The Next Move of God

Discuss the following excerpt from Lesson 14:

The next move of God will be characterized by “tastes” of the age to come manifesting in this present age. The nearer we draw to the kingdom age, the more we will see kingdom powers of that age bleeding over into this present age! We will see the emergence of true apostles moving in true apostolic authority and power.

What is the difference between being equipped and being trained?

Give two scripture references that talk about being prepared for the appearing of the Lord and His kingdom.

Three things about the Sons of Issachar

1. They had understanding of the _____.
2. As a result, they knew _____.
3. They were in command of their _____.

A modern day “son of Issachar” is one who sees the big picture of God’s _____ , understands _____ we are in that plan, and knows what needs to be done in the _____.

Write out the Axiom of Destiny

What did Peter tell us to “fix our hope on completely?”